Mysuru-Nanjangud Highway closed for second day

Nanjangud, Aug.11 (RS&DM)- The temple town of Nanjangud, also known as 'Dakshina Kashi' continued to reel under floods for the second day today. The famous Srikanteshwara temple appeared like an island with flood water rising to almost 3 feet deep all around the temple, with most of the cluster temples in the vicinity too submerged.

The Nanjangud-Hejjige Bridge which provides a vital transportation link to the temple town has developed cracks reportedly due to the high pressure of gushing waters, following which the authorities banned movement of Heavy Traffic Vehicles while allowing only Light Motor Vehicles to travel on the bridge.

Dissent by disruption

The relationship between a body and the forces acting upon it as well as its motion in response to those forces are known to students of Physics as Newton's Laws of Motion attributed to the British mathematician, astronomer, theologian, author and physicist Sir Isaac Newton (1643-1726), regarded widely as one of the most influential scientists of all time, laying the foundation for classical mechanics. To recap, his third Law states that "When one body exerts a force on a second body, the second body simultaneously exerts a force equal in magnitude and opposite in direction on the first body." Without meaning to question in this column the time-honoured third Law of the legendary Physicist, and with a big flight of imagination, call it even a fantasy, the Law may need to be modified in an away-from-Physics situation, identifying (a) the government of the day as one body and (b) the land's masses coming out on the streets as another. The first force in our modified Law comprises the various decisions, measures, Laws and Acts by the government. The second force is the all-too-familiar outrage staged by various outfits of the population. The modification to Newton's Law is that the second force is undoubtedly opposite but much more than equal in magnitude.

Psychologists have come out with a postulate, briefly stated as 10-90 phenomenon. What a person says or does, not relished by a second person, is rated as '10' while the reaction of the second person is rated as '90', reflecting the exaggeration of not relishing what is said or done. The land's administration and its people together fit into illustrating the "10-90" phenomenon.

Even a fast reading of the matter appearing in print in the land's dailies of all hues, including this one, yields sumptuous material of instances of the administration doing its duty of maintaining law and order in its jurisdiction and one or the other group among the residents coming out into the open in protest, most often though high decibel sloganeering if not violent acts. Dissenting, according to political theorists, is an integral part of the functioning of a democracy. Mysuru is keeping august company with virtually every city across the country in witnessing people's outfits staging protest against administration for various causes.

The foregoing reference to the example of government and people at large in an endless war of words as well as disruption of normal life in cities prompts one to perceive the satyagraha way in new light, other than its role in India's freedom struggle. Without a shadow of any doubt, the ideologues of non-violent satyagraha would not favour the ongoing scenario of dissent by disruption all over the country.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

Heart diseases have emerged as the leading cause for fatalities in men and women in India and world over. Like all matters of heart, the risk of heart diseases to both sexes is grave, but then, heart diseases affect men and women differently. Of the more than one crore annual deaths reported in India, cardiovascular diseases (CVD) account for 20.3% deaths in men and 16.9% deaths in women. The biology and physiology of both men and women are significantly different, which defines how we cope with various diseases. — Vanita Arora in Business Standard.

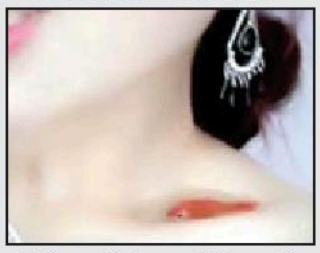
Live fish in collarbone indentation



Bejing: To show off how skinny they are, women are filling their collarbone indentation with water and put one or more live fish into it in the so-called "fish in collarbone challenge".

The bizarre fitness challenge which originated in China around three years ago, recently went viral on social media in other countries around Asia. This sort of challenges have become really popular in China in recent years, as people started taking to social media to show off their physique, but this one has to be one of the dumbest yet. Not only is the depth of a person's clavicle indentation a poor way of measuring their fitness level – not with so many different body types anyway – but it's also cruel to the fish.

Despite the obvious stupidity of the "fish in collarbone challenge" it was actually quite the craze in China a few years ago. A waterpark in Chongqing actually held a contest, inviting women to put live fish in their collarbone indentations for the chance to win free tickets.

Recycled toilet water to make beer

California: San Diego-Based Stone Brewing, the ninth-largest brewery in the United States, is manufacturing beer using recycled toilet water.

Named as 'Full Circle', the unique beer is made with 100% recycled waste water from the Pure Water demonstration plant Chief brewer Steve Gonzalez admits about using recycled water to make beer, but says that Full Circle turned out to be his best works yet, probably in the top three pale ales he's ever brewed.

Gonzalez said that the recycled water needed only some salts to be perfect for brewing. As for the other ingredients, he used three malts and three different hops, including two exotic ones from New Zealand which give the pale ale a tropical note. He added that, in contrast to the water used for Full Circle, it is a "very clean tasting beer".

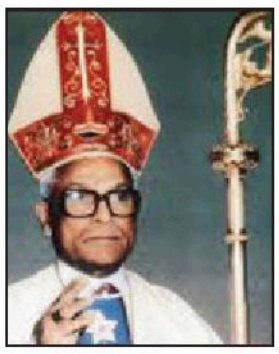
VOICE OF THE READER

Rev. Fr. Mathias Fernandes, Fr. Noronha and Thathayya



Fr. Mathias Fernandes

Fr. Noronha

Thathayya

Sir,

For Mysore and Mandya people, Fr. Noronha was a 'Father' figure, who recently entered heavenly abode to serve at the lotus feet of Lord Jesus. Those who came across with his tender heart and feather touch, cannot erase the memorable love he bestowed upon them.

Thathayya, founder of 'Anathalaya', as a Journalist then, was in constant touch with earlier Bishops of Mysore during Nalwadi days. During 60s, severe drought swept across Mysore State. We, inmates of Anathalaya then, suffered heavy food scarcity. The then Bishop of Mysore Rev. Mathias Fernandes sent a plea to American CARE Aid Organisation to extend helping hands. Soon, huge shipments of nutritious food items like Wheat, Flour, Oil, Corn, Pulses, Curd made out of Groundnut reached Mysore District.

Rev. Fr. Fernandes and Fr. Noronha meticulously distributed these items to the citizens of Mysore through Churches, Societies, Orphanages, Hostels etc. At that time, both sent words to our Hon. Secretary M.S. Srinivasa Rao, who happened to be the grandson of Thathayya, to come to Bishop's House and requested him to avail the benefits of CARE to the inmates and also to distribute the items to nearby poor and destitute people. The Secretary readily agreed and we the inmates started using the nutritious items apart from distributing them to the needy families judiciously with utmost care, maintaining stock register etc. People were happy and satisfied with us as well.

One day, a disgruntled fellow petitioned anonymously to the Bishop stating that the aid was being misused by distributing them to one community only! Soon Bishop Rev. Fr. Fernandes and Fr. Noronha paid a surprise visit to Anathalaya to oversee the distribution of items to the public.

We informed our Secretary who arrived immediately. Fr. Noronha saw the stock register, distribution mode by the students, enquired the beneficiaries with a smile and satisfaction. The Secretary showed them our cooked items made from the "aid" items and also offered them buttermilk prepared from groundnut curd. We used to distribute this buttermilk to devotees on Ramanavami and other festival days too, with a tinge of ginger and coriander leaves.

Our Secretary informed them that one of the inmates got first prize in Bible Essay Competition and showed them the Bible Book.

After tasting buttermilk, Fr. Noronha exclaimed, "What a tasty and healthy drink, bring another couple of buttermilk tumblers, let us drink, also let us order our people too to follow this method." The Bishop positively agreed. We offered them sumptuously like we offer "Biksha" to our Swamijis. At this juncture, Fr. Noronha explained to Rev. Bishop about the contribution of Thathayya in the erstwhile Mysore State.

As they departed, Fr. Noronha told our Secretary, "We will come here quite often, of course to taste your wonderful buttermilk", with a wink at Rev. Bishop! Thus the disgruntled man's ill wish evaporated !

We students then, still cherish

Raghu Ram

Fr. Noronha's simplicity, humility, sense of humour and human touch. We felt as though we were in the company of our own Jagadgurus. This is my "Tribute of Flowers" to the Divine Soul.

NOTE: *No wonder, when Fr. Noronha was shunted out of Mysore, a non-Christian admirer of Fr. Noronha told me that if Fr. Noronha had remained as a Priest in any of the Churches in Mysore, he would have been the unofficial Bishop for the people here.—KBG

Pervert trouble at K.R. Hospital Nursing Hostel

Uppinangadi Police arrest accused in Kerala

Mysuru, Aug. 11 (RK&BCT)- The pervert, who had spread terror at the Women's Nursing Hostel of K.R. Hospital and Cheluvamba Hospital run by Mysore Medical College and Research Institute in city, has finally been arrested in Kerala.

Interestingly, it was Uppinangadi (Dakshina Kannada) Police who arrested him. The pervert had entered the hostel on July 20 and had assaulted some nursing students there.

The hostel is three-storeyed and located between K.R. Hospital and Cheluvamba Hospital. It has a compound wall and the pervert, identified as 23-year-old Mohammad Altaf, had scaled the wall to enter the inner sections of the hostel.

Mohammad Altaf

CCTV visuals had captured him wearing khaki clothes and entering the hostel premises in the wee hours. He was in an inebriated condition and had assaulted and misbehaved with the students and had snatched away some mobile phones. He also rubbed the clothes that were kept for drying on his body and tried to take them away. When prevented by the students, he assaulted them. Visuals also showed him carrying a ladies garment.

A case had been registered at the Devaraja Police Station in Mysuru and based on the CCTV visuals, the Police had alerted their counterparts across Karnataka.

The accused was traced to Pudupalli in Kerala and based on definite information, Uppinangadi (Dakshina Kannada) Police arrested Mohammad Altaf.

Altaf is a resident of Bantwal Mani Nalkuru village in Dakshina Kannada. Following wide publicity in the media and fearing Police action, Altaf had fled to Kerala and was staying at Pudupalli, working in the fields of one Jinulal. After the arrest was made, the Uppinangadi Police informed the Devaraja Police in Mysuru.

The pervert incident had got widespread attention as after July 20, many students of the hostel had vacated the place fearing for their safety. The hospital administration had taken some remedial measures like fixing more CCTV cameras, closing the possible entry points and also appointing more security guards.

It may be recalled here that MLC V.S. Ugrappa, the Chairman of Expert Committee on Preventing Sexual Violence Against Women and Children, visited the Hostel and had taken the authorities to task seeing the pathetic living conditions of the inmates.

ACB sleuths trap MCC officer red-handed

Accused demanded money from a physically challenged international sportsperson

Mysuru, Aug. 11 (RK&BCT)- An office manager of the Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) was trapped red-handed yesterday by the Anti Corruption Bureau (ACB) while accepting a bribe of Rs. 4,500 for sanctioning cheques to beneficiaries under 'three percent grant scheme' of JnNURM project. The officer, Thejkumar, was trapped along with the cash.

Thejkumar

Thejkumar (First Division Assistant) was the office manager for JnNURM projects that come under Additional Commissioner of MCC. He had demanded bribe from a physically challenged sports achiever Prabhuswamy, a resident of Janata Nagar here.

Prabhuswamy, the President of Vikala Chethana Abhyudaya Samsthe, Mysuru, had represented India in World Master Game held at Auckland, New Zealand. He had participated in the International sports meet for the specially-abled and had won gold medals in javelin and shot-put.

Considering his achievements, the State Government had sanctioned a cash reward to him and Prabhuswamy had applied through MCC to get this cash reward. When the file reached Thejkumar, he demanded a bribe and asked Prabhuswamy to cough up Rs. 2,500 for him to sanction the cheque.

Prabhuswamy was made to run from section to section at the office by Thejkumar until he agreed to pay the bribe and fed up with this trauma, the former complained to the ACB sleuths who laid a trap. Not only from Prabhuswamy, Thejkumar had also demanded a bribe of Rs. 2,000 from Sinchana, one more beneficiary of a different scheme. She too had complained to the ACB.

Following complaints, the ACB team asked the complainants to visit the MCC office at 3.30 pm yesterday where Thejkumar was trapped red-handed. The team was led by ACB Inspectors Shekhar and Naveen.

The trapping operation was supervised by ACB Superintendent of Police Dr. H.T. Shekar and Dy.SP Umesh G. Shet. Thejkumar was produced before a Court in Mysuru that remanded him to judicial custody.

Tusker in Trouble

Forest officials in Kodagu grapple to generate funds to treat injured elephant

The injured wild elephant at Aanekaadu elephant camp near Kushalnagar in Kodagu. Picture right shows forest staff and other elephant care-takers.

Interestingly, the injured wild tusker is visited by his companion from the jungles almost every day and eats the leftover food before returning to the forest.

Kushalnagar, Aug. 11 (AP& BCT)- An injured male wild elephant is desperately crying for help in Kodagu. Its condition is worsening by the day and it is silently shedding tears, unable to bear the pain of injury and infection. The Forest Department is struggling to maintain the injured jumbo due to lack of resources and manpower.

The elephant, about 20-years-old, was found near Athur Forest Range by forest staff who were on beat duty. The tusker was writhing in pain due to an injury on its right leg. The elephant, though was able to stand, could not move a bit due to infection and festering wound. Seeing its pitiable condition, Department staff administered some painkillers to the elephant and provided it some food.

Later, the forest staff, with the help of tamed elephants Vikram and Harsha, were able to shift the injured elephant from the forest to Aanekaadu Elephant Camp that is five kilometres from the spot where it was found injured. The elephant is at present lodged at Aanekaadu where it is being treated.

According to Mahout Ashoka, the tusker would have run from a place sensing danger and its right leg could have been caught between trees and the leg would have got twisted. It has suffered severe internal fractures and some parts of its legs are infected, said veterinarian Mujeeb, who is treating the pachyderm.

At times, the elephant when trying to move from one side to another groans in pain. Though its regular food intake is normal, its condition is worsening by the day and is growing weak due to pain. Whenever it rains, the elephant must be brought to a shelter and again taken back into the open after the rain subsides.

The tusker needs constant care and the Forest Department-run elephant camp at Aanekaadu is already facing fund crunch and lack of manpower. 62-year-old Mahout Chikka, who trained and tamed elephant Harsha, is looking after the wild elephant. But Chikka says that he has not received his pension since the last four months.

The injured elephant has become a huge burden on the Forest Department as it costs anywhere between Rs. 5,000 and Rs. 7,000 for the food and medical expenses daily.

According to Deputy Range Forest Officer Arun, they have been taking care of the injured tusker since July 20 and already Rs. 1 lakh has been spent on the elephant and the Department was not in a position to generate more funds.

Along with the fund crunch, the Department is also facing severe shortage of manpower. "We are somehow running the show at Aanekaadu now. But if the existing elephants and their mahouts leave for the annual Mysuru Dasara, it will be very difficult for us to take care of the injured elephant," said Arun. He has appealed to his higher-ups to intervene and save the injured tusker.

Tribal agriculturists stage stir, seek implementation of Forest Rights Act

Mysuru, Aug. 11 (PM&KS)- Urging implementation of Forest Dwellers' Forest Rights Act, tribal agriculturists, under the banner of H.D. Kote Taluk Tribal Agriculturists Association, staged a protest in city on Thursday.

The Association members, who assembled in front of Mahatma Gandhi bust opposite to City Law Courts Complex here, garlanded the bust and staged a protest for sometime. They then took out a rally to the DC office after passing through Krishnaraja Boulevard and held a demonstration in front of the DC office.

The protestors demanded that khata be given to those farmers whose lands (1 to 3 acres) were acquired. They also demanded basic facilities be provided to 11 Forest Rights Committees coming under DB Kuppe and S. Beltur Gram Panchayats where khatas were distributed.

They also demanded change in the Central Government Camp Act which has been implemented as the Act was snatching away the Forest Rights of the tribals. The protestors urged for the implementation of amended rules of the 2012 Act.

DEED Director Srikanth, Tribal Agriculturists Association President Kenchaiah, Secretary D.M. Basavaraju, Tribal leaders Vijaykumar, Ramu, H.D. Kote Nisarga Foundation's Gurudeva Aradhya and others were present during the protest.

Forest staff clear weeds along Bandipur Road

Gundlupet, Aug.11 (SG&US)- Heavy rain in the recent past in the taluk had enhanced greenery adjoining the road passing through Bandipur Tiger Reserve forest.

However, along with the grass, a lot of Lantana and other wild growth too had come up curtailing the growth of good grass and the weeds had spread to the roads inconveniencing the motorists and even wild animals trying to cross the roads.

Sensing danger, the staff of the Forest Department have begun clearing the weeds. Project Tiger Director Ambadi Madhav said that about 30 metres on either side of the road from Melukamanahalli gate to Kekkanahalla checkpost would be cleared of weeds.

The Relevance of IKEA and its Mysuru Connection

It seems, on Thursday all roads led to a Swedish Furniture Store in Hyderabad — IKEA. The company's name is an acronym — Ingvar Kamprad the name of its Founder, Elmtaryd name of his Farm and Agunnaryd the name of his Hometown in Sweden.

So the world famous furniture store IKEA opened its first store at HITEC City in Hyderabad and it lured so many people that traffic in the area came to a halt. Was it just curiosity that drove people there or a real desire to buy? Because Indians love heavy teak furniture that lasts forever and IKEA doesn't really sell that kind of furniture.

IKEA produces light wood furniture and for the most part it's a 'Do It Yourself' (DIY) project. Which means, when you go to an IKEA store and buy furniture, you will not get a fully assembled product. Instead, you take home all the required components and a detailed manual so you can assemble the furniture yourself.

When I mentioned IKEA's DIY style of business to a friend he said, "What is this DIY? It's like going to a restaurant, ordering a dish, and the waiter brings all the ingredients; you have to cook it yourself?" IKEA well understands this reluctance among Indians and has partnered with a company called Urban Clap which will send over a carpenter to assemble the furniture for a fee of Rs. 900.

Apart from contemporary furniture and lifestyle products, companies like IKEA bring something to a nation's industrial landscape — they make our local companies globally competitive.

A month ago, I visited MAS Furniture, a Mysuru-based furniture manufacturing company headed by Shabbir Vagh. When I met Shabbir he was busy planting trees at the factory premises. When I enquired about it he replied saying, "We're now manufacturing for IKEA and they have a requirement which states that every factory must have a certain amount of green cover."

It seems to be qualified as an IKEA supplier one has to follow IKEA's IWAY policy. IWAY is short for the IKEA-Way of doing things. One such IWAY is that vendors that partner with IKEA must have a healthy male to female ratio in the factory.

Shabbir says that ratio is 1:1 and now he has hired a whole lot of women to make for a 1:1 workforce. IKEA also wanted pay parity that is based on merit and experience rather than gender.

Strict standards have been laid out for workers' safety, which means all workers on the shop floor have to wear gloves, bright vests and goggles. Apart from this, the vendor has to maintain clean accounting standards.

Shabbir Vagh posing with IKEA products at his MAS Furniture Factory-cum-Showroom in Mysuru.

As for the raw materials, Shabbir shows me a beautiful vegetable crate made from pine wood which he supplies to IKEA and tells me the varnish on the wood has undergone innumerable tests to the point that the wood is safe enough even for a child to chew on.

He also informs me that every piece of wood used by IKEA is certified by the Forest Stewardship Council, an international body governing the sustainable and responsible use of forest resources.

So how has all of this helped Shabbir's family furniture business? Thanks to following the IKEA way of manufacturing, the company has attracted new global partnerships. MAS Furniture now supplies furniture to the Trump Tower being built in Pune and is making furniture for the world famous French product designer Philippe Starck.

This is proof that when global companies with good practices partner with local manufacturers, they improve their standards making them globally competitive. When our industrialists can learn, adapt and become globally competitive, why can't our politicians and bureaucrats? Well, it turns out politicians and bureaucrats of Telangana already have.

It was reported that IKEA was first to open in either Mumbai or Bengaluru but suddenly chose Hyderabad. The reason being that the Principal Secretary of Telangana, after reading about IKEA's plans for India, contacted them and deputed a few proactive bureaucrats to help them get all the approvals and allotted land in HITEC City. The speed at which things moved ensured that IKEA opened its first India Store and the country's largest retail space in Hyderabad while providing employment to 950 people in the store alone!

In contrast, a mobile phone brand based in Bengaluru approached the Karnataka government for industrial land to setup a mobile research and development lab in 2015. They even met the previous Chief Minister but nothing came of it. Later, Telangana heard about this project, called the owners, held talks and soon offered them 1.6 acres in Gachibowli to set up their Lab. Today the construction is on track and is expected to be completed by 2019 and will employ over 300 people.

The manufacturing philosophies of companies like IKEA are very relevant for a growing economy like ours. Karnataka needs such companies and for that our leaders have to be proactive. The last time we had such a Chief Minister was S.M. Krishna, who ushered in the IT boom. Now we have a coalition government and there is an atmosphere of industrial gloom.

Child-friendly PARK

Training children on road safety is always a daunting task. While children may not be able to comprehend traffic signs and the associated symbols inside a room or on a chart due to their tender age, taking them to an open road and then teach traffic rules is too risky as they tend to get highly excited in certain situations and may lose control of the parents and teachers, leading to accidents. Not anymore. The Children's Traffic Park at Nazarbad is an ideal place to teach children traffic discipline and make them understand their importance. It is a place where complicated things are made simple and easy to identify and assimilate.

This Weekend Star Supplement takes our readers along the park to trace its uniqueness and informative structures.

Where young minds are moulded

The entrance to the model city inside the Children's Traffic Park at Nazarbad.

A city within a park.

Children erupt with joy as the park is inaugurated.

By Shadan Muneer
Freelance Journalist

"If we want to reach real peace in the world we should start educating children," said Mahatma Gandhi. Today's children are tomorrow's future and their safety — both at home and outdoors — is of utmost importance. Fatalities and road accidents are constant in any city and lack of road sense further complicates the matter.

With vehicular traffic increasing at an exponential rate year-on-year, educating children about road safety is imperative. Early age road safety programmes go a long way in sensitising children and ensuring that they become responsible drivers and pedestrians.

It was with this objective that the Children's Traffic Park, on Mirza Road, opposite to the Police Commissioner's Office in Nazarbad, was renovated and reopened with added features. This educational park aims to educate the children about the traffic rules and has laid down road safety measures in an innovative way to grab the attention of the children and make their learning process more interesting and fun.

The park is joint effort of the Mysuru District Administration, the Department of Women and Child Development, the Mysuru City Police and the District Legal Services Authority. On the 16th of July, the Park was re-inaugurated by Police Commissioner Dr. A. Subramanyeswara Rao and also launched a programme called "Awareness through Little Hearts" for school children.

Speaking about the idea behind the reopening and response to the Park, the City Top Cop said, "The idea was to invest in the children as most of the traffic violations are from the youngsters within the age group of 18 to 25. We are aiming to educate the children about the traffic rules early in life so that they follow them when they become adults as well as implant a sense of discipline."

He also added: "The response to the Traffic Park by the school children since its reopening is really encouraging. About 3,000 to 4,000 school students have visited the Park so far. We hope that the road awareness given by the trained Police at the Park will help transform children for their better future."

Determined on keeping up the good work alive, the Police Commissioner also spoke about the further developments and projects for the school children. [Continued on page 12]

"Apart from launching the programme called 'Awareness through Little Hearts' we also plan to come up with a new project called 'The Young Mysureans.' It will be a public service kind of a programme where about 500 students from 20 different schools will be enrolled to enforce and regulate traffic every fortnight for two hours. They will also be given a separate identity card, a pair of gloves and a cap for being part of the project," he added.

The Children's Traffic Park is spread out on a 4-acre land, developed in 1981 by F.K. Irani who owned Ideal Jawa Company. The Park, also called Yezdi Park, was built for the purpose of spreading awareness on road safety among children. It includes traffic signals, roads and signages. It also features miniature models of various buildings including post office, hospital, school, bank, railway station and a Police Station among others for training purpose. The children's park is also equipped with facilities for the counselling of rescued children and education on children's rights.

For several years, the unique children's park was lying in a state of benign neglect even though children flocked to it on weekends. At night, it was used by people to sleep off in a drunken stupor. The credit of resurrecting the park goes to the then (2007) City Police Commissioner Bhaskar Rao who is now Additional Director General of Police (ADGP) KSRP.

The entire traffic sign chart is displayed for the children to see and assimilate.

A traffic sign triangle that indicates Railway crossings, curves and U Turn.

As part of the 'Awareness Through Little Hearts' programme, various schools are accepting the invitation by the Traffic Police and are bringing in their students as educational visit to the Park.

N. Muniyappa, Police Inspector at Siddhartha Nagar Police Station says, "In the last two to three weeks around 4,000 school children have visited the Park and we have educated them regarding the traffic rules. The teachers, who accompany them, also gain knowledge and in-turn educate the parents who visit the school to drop their children if they are found driving without a helmet or a seatbelt."

Other than the road safety guidelines, the children are taken around the Traffic Park and educated on Pedestrian Operated Signals, CCTV systems and Vehicle Management Systems by trained Policemen.

H.P. Srikanta Murthy, Head Constable, who educates the children in the Park quips "Today's children are very sharp and grasp things quickly. They interact well too. This park will hopefully play a vital role in improving awareness on traffic safety among school children," he added.

The new version of the Park is one of the many new initiatives taken by the Traffic Police to curb road accidents and inculcate discipline.

Speaking about the Park, DCP (Crime and Traffic) Dr. Vikram V. Amathe said "In addition to road safety, children are also briefed about traffic equipment and road furniture. The knowledge sessions carried out by Mysuru Traffic Police will apprise the children about the importance of traffic rules."

He also said "The Park has an exclusive room where the children are shown images and clips relating to road safety, videos on how accidents occur and also the acts of good Samaritans. This virtual experience increases the ability to react to the traffic hazards thus creating knowledge about the potential dangers and solutions."

The park also welcomes general public. One can take a stroll or walk through the peaceful and green surroundings as it is well maintained. So the next time you are planning fun learning for kids, head straight to the Traffic Park.

Aside... A place for love to bloom

The Children's Traffic Park that is located at a stone's throw away from the City Police Commissioner's Office at Nazarbad is also a place for the public to take some rest under shady environs. The place is also frequented by youngsters who want to spend some quality time, allowing the Cupid to strike. Ironically, the park is run and maintained by the city Police who are supposed to prevent this public display of affection !

Kumaraswamy promises relief for MUDA Layout site owners

The residents were waiting for the CM since 8.30 am to submit a memorandum to resolve the vexed problem wherein the government had declared these MUDA layouts along with other lands coming under Survey Number 4 and 41 as 'B Kharab' (government land) thereby suddenly refusing to issue Khata for the properties, approve building plan, issue completion certificate, etc., causing inconvenience and loss to property owners who are unable to raise money by mortgaging the properties in times of financial problems or to sell the properties.

The lands had been legally purchased by over 25,000 residents from City Improvement Trust Board (CITB) (now MUDA) in 1970s. The government had declared 205.09 acres at Siddarthanagar, 105 acres at K.C. Nagar and 44.02 acres at J.C. Nagar as 'B Kharab'. In all, classification covers 354.11 acres of land.

The problem has been hanging fire since five years and the earlier Congress government, during whose period the problem was created, did not at all bother to find a solution and give relief to the residents. As a result, hundreds of residents had held protest demonstrations in front of MUDA, DC's Office and even at the K.C. Nagar Sangolli Rayanna Circle without any result.

In fact, about 6 months before the May Assembly election, when the residents came to know that the then Chief Minister Siddharamaiah was visiting a friend's house behind Dr. Narasaiah's Hospital in Siddarthanagar at 7 pm, over 250 of them went there to submit a memorandum in this regard. However, when they approached him, while coming out of the house, he simply walked to his car and drove away without even receiving the memorandum.

In sharp contrast this morning when about 200 people were waiting for the new Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy at the premises of the Suttur Mutt, the Police allowed 7 persons to hand over the memorandum to the CM who was in his car. Accordingly, when they gave the memorandum and mentioned about their problems, Kumaraswamy, seeing the people in such a large number, got down from the car and walked up to those people with the memorandum in his hand which he quickly went through and assured them saying "None of you need to worry about this problem. I am told that you have been waiting here since early in the morning. I will discuss the matter with the officers concerned and personally find a solution for your problems." So saying, he got into the car and drove towards the main building of the Suttur Mutt.

Earlier to this, the office-bearers of the Welfare Association and members met Suttur Seer Sri Shivarathri Deshikendra Swamiji while he was waiting for the CM and sought his blessings for the speedy solution to this problem showing him the envelope containing the memorandum. The Swamiji placed his hand on the cover and said, "You are doing what is good for the society. You have my blessings for your efforts."

Among the office-bearers who met the CM were the President of the Kurubarahalli Survey No. 4, Alanahalli Survey Number 41 Residents Welfare Association B.P. Manjunath, Vice President and former Deputy Mayor Mahadevamma, Secretary Muralidhar, Corporator P. Mallesh and Jain community leader Prakash Jain.

It is a reflection on the earlier Congress Government which mercilessly ignored the innumerable pleas and requests of the residents of these MUDA layouts who were suddenly pushed into a "No Man's Land Residents" kind of a situation by a sudden knee-jerk kind of an order affecting these layouts because one MLC had made some wild allegations. In response, the government simply issued a blanket order for all the lands that came under Kurubarahalli Survey No. 4, Alanahalli Survey Number 41 without exempting the MUDA layouts which the government itself had approved. It is strange the government is saying that it did not approve the lands on which MUDA layouts were formed.

CM seeks 20 days time to resolve Falcon Tyres row

Mysuru, Aug. 11 (RK&DM)- Even as one of the major Industries in the city Falcon Tyres Ltd., located on KRS Road in Metagalli remains closed for over 3 years, Chief Minister(CM) H.D. Kumaraswamy has sought 20 days time for reviving the factory .

Kumaraswamy who arrived last night in the city on a two-day tour of the district, met the aggrieved workers who had gathered at Gate-2 of the Factory this morning.

Speaking after receiving a memorandum from the aggrieved factory workers, CM said he was in the know of the problem and sought 20-days time to address the issue. Pointing out that as per the NCLT court order, the Insolvency Resolvance Professional (IRP) has floated a global tender inviting interested parties to run the factory, Kumaraswamy said he has been apprised of the factory workers problems by Ministers G.T. Devegowda and K.J. George and he has already held one round of talks with the concerned departments for finding out ways for re-opening of the factory, which had employed hundreds of workers.

Reassuring the factory workers of his Government's commitment to re-start the factory, Kumaraswamy said he will make all efforts to ensure that the factory re-opens shortly.

Later replying to a question on the BJP attacking his planting of paddy programme as a mere show, Kumaraswamy hit out at the BJP saying that he was personally doing paddy cultivation in order to enthuse youths to take up farming and also to send out a message to the farmers not to commit suicide. He further said his Government was working on large-scale implementation of Israeli model of farming in the state, which guarantees low water consumption and a higher yield. Ministers G.T. Devegowda, S.R. Mahesh and C.S. Puttaraju were present.

Mysuru-Nanjangud Highway closed

The bridge was inaugurated by the then Chief Minister Siddharamaiah only five months ago and the people have blamed poor quality of work for the bridge developing cracks in such a short span of time.

The rapid increase in the outflow from the dams of the overflowing Kabini and Kapila Rivers, has resulted in the flood waters inundating thousands of acres of agricultural land, destroying standing crops, thus causing grave concern for the farming community.

Most of the low-lying areas in Nanjangud town continue to remain partially inundated even as there is no immediate signs of water level in the Kabini and Kapila dams receding.

Mysuru-Nanjangud road closed for Traffic

With the Mysuru-Nanjangud National Highway (NH 766) fully submerged near the Mallanamoole Mutt with water flowing more than 3ft deep on the stretch of the road, the authorities closed the road for vehicular movement for the second day today.

Sources said that the closure may continue tomorrow also as there is no indication of water levels receding in the next 24 hours. With the ever busy Mysuru-Nanjangud road closed for traffic, the Police have made alternative arrangement for traffic to ply via Tandavapura, Kempesiddanahundi and Basavanapura to reach the temple town.

With rising water levels, the Police have warned the public and devotees not to venture into the waters at any point along the banks of Kapila and Kabini rivers.

Mysuru Literary Fest in city tomorrow

The second Mysuru Literary Fest-2018 organised by Mysore Literary Association (MLA) will be held tomorrow (Aug.12) at the Senate Bhavan in Manasagangothri campus.

Since Aug. 8, Star of Mysore has been profiling some of the leading names in various fields who are the panellists participating in the day-long session.

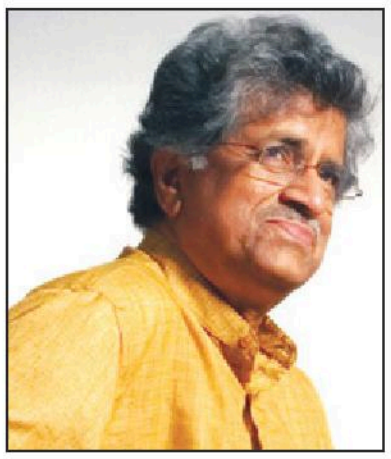
The two personalities who are being featured today (Aug.11) are Pt. Rajeev Taranath and Pavan K. Varma.

Pt. Rajeev Taranath will inaugurate the Mysuru Literary Fest tomorrow (Aug.12) at 10 am at Senate Bhavan, Manasagangothri. Pavan K. Varma will later deliver a talk at 11 am on the topic "Adi Shankaracharya: Literature, Philosophy and Society."

Nadoja Pandit Rajeev Taranath

Musician, Litterateur



The internationally renowned sarod maestro, Pt. Rajeev Taranath, who turned 85 last October, is one of the illustrious exponents of the ancient "senia" gharana of Hindustani music in India today. Pt. Rajeev Taranath has followed some legendary musicians (and his teachers) like Ustad Ali Akbar Khan and Pt. Ravi Shankar in bringing a global presence to Hindustani music.

Recently, the Kannada University at Hampi presented him with the Nadoja award for the highest achievement in Music, as well as his singular contribution to twentieth-century Kannada literature and culture.

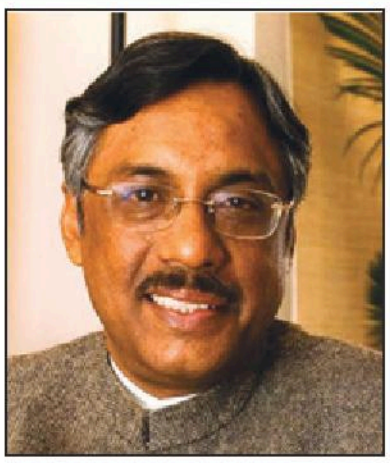
The first Indian to have played at the famous Sydney Opera House in Australia, he has received several prestigious awards such as the country's highest award for music, the Sangeet Natak Academy Award, the Chowdiah Award, and others. As the founder of the Pt. Taranath Foundation, he has fostered Hindustani music in South India for many years.

Although music drew him away from writing, his brilliant critical work in English and Kannada through the 60s and 70s is still considered to be seminal. A leading figure in the Kannada navya movement, Rajeev Taranath influenced stalwarts like Dr. U.R. Ananthamurty, Gopalakrishna Adiga and Dr. Chandrashekara Kambara. Indeed, he was among those who shaped this navya sensibility through his sharp critical writings and some rare translations of writers like Dr.Kambara and Sri Krishna Alanahalli. Besides, he set a new trend in music direction for the avant garde Film of the South in Samskara and worked with the greats of Malayalam Cinema like Aravindan and Vasudevan Nair.

No wonder that numerous documentaries have been made (in India and abroad) and books written on this fine renaissance man of our times.

Pavan K. Varma

Writer, Diplomat, Politician



Pavan K. Varma is a writer-diplomat and now in politics, where he was till recently an MP in the Rajya Sabha, and earlier Advisor to the Chief Minister of Bihar, with rank of Cabinet Minister. Author of over a dozen best-selling books, he has been Ambassador in several countries, Director of The Nehru Centre in London, Official Spokesperson of the MEA, and Press Secretary to the President of India. He is currently the National General Secretary and National Spokesman of the Janata Dal (United).

Varma was conferred an Honorary Doctoral Degree for his contribution to the fields of diplomacy, literature, culture and aesthetics by the University of Indianapolis in 2005. He was also awarded by His Majesty the King of Bhutan, the Druk Thuksey Award, Bhutan's highest civilian Award.

Varma's new book, 'Adi Shankaracharya: Hinduism's Greatest Thinker' (Westland-Amazon), was launched in April, 2018, with the presentation of the first copy to the President of India. The book has also been published in Hindi, and Malayalam, Tamil, Telugu, Kannada, Marathi, Bengali and Gujarati translations will be out shortly.

Asian Games

Javelin Thrower Neeraj Chopra named India's flag bearer

New Delhi, Aug. 11- Javelin thrower Neeraj Chopra has been handed the honour of being the Indian contingent's flag bearer at the upcoming Asian Games in Jakarta and Palembang. The announcement was made by Dr. Narinder Batra, President of the Indian Olympic Association (IOA) at a send-off ceremony for the Indian contingent in New Delhi on Friday.

The 20-year-old Chopra's name had been doing the rounds for the position. The Panipat boy's career graph has only gone up ever since he won the Junior World Championship gold in 2016. Earlier this year, he set a national record at the Federation Cup in Patiala where he threw 85.94m. At the Commonwealth Games in Gold Coast, he bettered it with a throw of 86.47m. At the IAAF Diamond League in Doha, he threw a sensational 87.43m, shattering the national record and achieving his personal best in the process. He finished fourth in the competition.

In the build up to his first Asian Games, Chopra won a gold at Savo Games in France. No Indian javelin thrower has won an Asian Games gold and Chopra looks set to change that around. Former hockey captain Sardar Singh was India's flag bearer at the 2014 Asian Games in Incheon.

Assault case against Chamundi Hill Temple AO

Was it a case of mistaken identity?

Mysuru, Aug. 11 (SBD&BCT)- A complaint has been lodged against the Administrative Officer (AO) and staff of Chamundi Hill Temple for allegedly assaulting a devotee who had come to have darshan of Goddess Chamundeshwari atop the Hill yesterday. The complaint has been lodged at K.R. Police Station by H.S. Subbaraja Urs, a resident of Vidyaranyapuram.

In his complaint, Urs has told the Police that as yesterday was the last Ashada Shukravara, he had come to the temple and had entered the sanctum sanctorum at 4.30 am when he was called aside by the AO and his five-six staff and assaulted him.

"I have been visiting the temple since the last 30 years and every Friday I climb the steps of the Hill to reach the temple. As it was the last Ashada Shukravara, I had come to the temple on Thursday night itself — as there would be heavy rush — along with my friends and was waiting for my turn at the North entrance of the temple," he stated.

Urs said that the gates of the temple were opened at 4.30 am and he entered the sanctum sanctorum. "As I was to enter the temple in the queue, the AO pulled me out of the queue and was assaulted by five to six men. The friends who came along with me tried to prevent but they too were assaulted," he stated in the complaint.

A case of mistaken identity?: He has told the Police that a person by name Subramanya had called from the Chamundi Hill Temple office on Thursday evening asking him (Subbaraja Urs) to withdraw a complaint given to Mysuru DC against the AO. "He threatened me of dire consequences if I do not withdraw the complaint. As I had not filed any complaint and was not even aware of the issue, I disconnected the phone thinking that it was a wrong number," he stated in the complaint.

He has told the Police that it was a pre-planned attack against him inside the temple and has requested the Police to take action against the assaulters.

Another source claimed that Subbaraja Urs was mistakenly assaulted thinking that he was Prof. P.V. Nanjaraja Urs, who had threatened to complain to the DC against the Temple AO for alleged misappropriation of temple ticket money. But the Police are yet to confirm this theory.

One dead, five injured in mini bus accident at Hanur

Driver, woman's hands severed

Hanur, Kollegal taluk, Aug. 11 (Somashekar)- In a ghastly accident, one woman died and five people sustained grievous injuries when the mini bus in which they were travelling lost control and turned turtle. In all, there were 26 people in the bus.

The accident was so severe that the woman Ammanni Akka, whose hand was severed, later succumbed to the injuries while she was being taken to K.R. Hospital in Mysuru. The other person whose hand was severed was that of driver Manju and he is being treated in K.R. Hospital.

The incident occurred this morning when the bus was moving towards Mahabetta on the Hanur-Ellemala road. The injured belonged to B.G. Pura village in Belakavadi taluk.

First they were all taken to Kollegal Government Hospital in ambulance. The other four who are injured and being treated in the Government Hospital are Nagamani, Lakshmi, Kamalamma and Shivananjamma.

Inhuman act

In what is a truly inhuman, callous and cruel act, the remaining people in the bus just took other buses and left to the Mahabetta.

The mini bus was carrying 26 persons including the driver when the accident occurred at around 8 am. Six people were grievously injured and they were all lying on the road.

It is said that the remaining 20 people, all from the same village of B.G.Pura, who were lucky to escape with minor injuries did not even bother to attend to the injured victims who were writhing in pain. They just caught the buses going towards Mahabetta, leaving the injured to fend for themselves and everyone who saw them leave the place, were stunned with this callous show of attitude.
